Barge Towing Supplies To Kashechewan

Kashechewan, a Cree community of approximately 1,500 on the shore of James Bay in Northern Ontario, has been evacuated three times in the last 20 months due to flooding, sewage back up or water quality issues. For a brief period of time, residents of the community were living in temporary accommodation in several towns and cities as they awaited repairs on their homes and infrastructures.

Many of the residents have since returned home but are being stretched financially in meeting their daily living costs. In an effort to help families in Kashechewan to receive basic staples such as food and clothing, we have been able to join forces with the Emergency Relief and Distribution Organization of the PAOC in transporting goods to Moosonee. The skids of supplies will be placed on a barge to make its way up James Bay to Kashechewan.

Education: Preparing For Ministry

Many years ago an elderly gentleman told me to get all the education that I could because it was easy to carry around. He was right. It is light.

His Word brings times of refreshing.

God's Word reminds us to study to "show thyself approved, a workman that needs not to be ashamed".

A few months ago, I attended a "Rising Above Conference" which was an excellent opportunity to better understand the social problems facing our native people. The conference was dealing with different problems such as residential schools, suicide and substance abuse.

Summertime Activities At the Centre

Looking Ahead With Renewed Hope

Summertime is often seen as a time to rest and enjoy the warm weather. It is also a time to host youth retreats and visit different camps in the area. In August we visited the Cobourg Campgrounds and participated in a Missions event. We were able to share what we were doing at the Centre in terms of distance education, retreats and seminars which are being taken to various communities in the north. We had "On Eagles Wings" ministry from Oklahoma which involved about ninety young people from different reservations across Canada and the United States. They spent a month traveling to different native territories and ministering to the youth.

It was encouraging to see and hear how the Lord touched many young lives for the kingdom through this group of young men and women. Their time with us was preparation to return to their families and loved ones with a sense of renewed hope in the Gospel and their rededication to follow in the steps of the Lord Jesus Christ.

Mervyn Cheechoo, President of Rising Above, reminded the conference delegates that education is an important key to their life. They need to take courses that would enable them to be more productive in their society and within their local community.

ous car accident and rushed to a local hospital emergency room.

Two doctors rush to your side, both graduated from medical school twenty-five years ago. Dr. A. never took another course and did very little reading of medical journals. Dr. B. kept up with new medical procedures and with the latest medical reports.

Whose report would you like to receive — Dr. A or Dr. B?

Your choice.

You may be asking yourself if these courses are right for you. The answer is "yes".

These courses are designed for those desiring to study the Bible on their own or those who may be thinking about entering into the ministry.

These courses will help you regardless of where you may be in your walk of faith.

If you feel a nudging towards a more serious study of the Word, then don't hesitate to call or if you simply need some more information on our courses, we have a friendly staff at Native New Life Centre waiting to respond to your inquiries.
